

Privacy Policy Statement

Any personal information we collect from users will be used solely for the purpose of communicating with those users. The only exceptions to this will be:

- When required by law enforcement or a court order, or
- When the user has indicated that contact information should be made public. (This will be optional and this contact information will be separate from the personal contact information we collect from users.)